

Building Code Series

Quarterly | Online*

2-4 LU/HSW Anticipated per session

Developed by the Code Committee, this four-part series focuses on essential building code topics such as the latest developments in local code updates, existing building requirements, accessibility, and the intricacies of compliance issues.

Up to one session in-person*

WAsafe Building Safety Evaluation

Early Spring | In-Person

6 LU/HSW Anticipated

This critical training program equips architects, engineers, officials, and inspectors to assess buildings and infrastructure post-disaster, training them as first-responders for a safe transition to reoccupying, clearing, or demolishing structures.

Climate Summit

Early Spring | In-Person

8 LU/HSW Anticipated

This annual full-day forum amplifies the role of the profession in climate and sustainability at varying scales to advance research, share technical skills, and inform policies crucial for a sustainable, decarbonized, and equitable built environment.

AHC Conference(s)

Spring and/or Fall | In-Person

6-8 LU/HSW Anticipated per program

The Architecture for Health Committee (AHC) connects and educates healthcare design professionals, focusing on innovations, codes, and adaptations in the region's healthcare systems and their links with the built environment.

Parti

Spring | In-Person

Celebrate our member community!

Each year, AIA Seattle recognizes individual leadership and achievement in design and the built environment at the local and national levels through its celebratory member awards program, Parti.

Housing Design Forum

Late Spring | In-Person

8 LU/HSW Anticipated

This annual full-day forum explores the latest design trends, case studies, policy changes, and practice innovations informing housing design and the development of plentiful, quality, diverse, and sustainable housing options in Seattle and beyond.

Business of Architecture Series

Summer/Fall | In-Person

4 LU/HSW Anticipated per session

This three-part education series, delivered as individual half-day workshops, is focused on skill building for an equitable and sustainable practice and business, no matter the firm size.

Honor Awards for Washington Architecture

November | In-Person

Call for Submissions in August!

AIA Seattle's signature program, the nationally recognized Honor Awards for Washington Architecture, celebrates our state's best design projects in an event of unique rigor and breadth.

All programs subject to change.*

Please visit aiaseattle.org for the most up to date information.