Culture Change in Practice: A Leadership Cohort 2023 is a four-part, peer-based learning program was designed by a team of architects and allied professionals to specifically provide architecture and allied firms the tools and community to meet the explicit goals and metrics laid out in NOMA NW's Call-to-Action. The full series cost is calculated per person based on firm size, ranging between $500-$1500 USD. As we strive to prevent or minimize the labor that BIPOC firm leaders are often asked to carry out in equity-related conversations, we encourage BIPOC and other marginalized participants to submit a reduced rate request. In addition, we recognize this fee may present hardship to some firms who are nevertheless committed to investing in the work. AIA Seattle has reserved limited funds for reduced rate requests.
