Culture Change in Practice: A Leadership Cohort 2024 is a four-part, peer-based workshop series facilitated by Dr. Anu Taranath to support a community of practice, equipping leaders from architecture and allied firms to translate learning and catalyze change outward in their own firms and beyond. The full series cost is based on individual member status ranging between $960-$1,260 USD. As we strive to prevent or minimize the labor that BIPOC firm leaders are often asked to carry out in equity-related conversations, we encourage BIPOC and other marginalized participants to submit a reduced rate request. In addition, we recognize this fee may present hardship to some firms or individuals who are nevertheless committed to investing in the work. AIA Seattle has reserved limited funds for reduced rate requests.
